

CANADIAN FIGHTING FORCES

Six Smashing, Powerful Reels, Showing the Heroism and Struggles of Our Brave Boys at the Front

In February 1917, citizens of Port Arthur and Fort William could watch local men with the Canadian Forces on the big screen. The six reel war film titled Canadian Fighting Forces would be shown at the Royal Theatre in Fort William. The Local men of the Royal Navy featured in the film were H.M. Scott, F.J. Perry, E.J. Dure and D.P. Urry who enlisted and were accepted for the Royal Navy Auxiliary Patrol Service back in June 1916.
